BEFORE IT IS BORN.

Some Startling Statements of Gen. Grant's Interest.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, on being asked when the training of a child should begin, replied, "A hundred years before it is born."

Are we to infer from this that this generation is responsible for the condition of the race a hundred years from now?

Is this wonderful generation the natural result of the proper diet and medicines of a hundred years ago?

It is contended in other lands that most of the wonderful discoveries of the world in this century have come from this country. Our ancestors were reared in log cabins, and suffered hardships and trials.

But they lived and enjoyed health to a ripe old age. The women of those days would endure hardships without apparent fatigue that would startle those of the present age.

Why was it?

One of the proprietors of the popular remedy known as Warner's safe cure, has been faithfully investigating the cause, and has called to his aid scientists as well as medical men...

What were these remedies? What were they used for? After untiring and diligent search they have obtained the formulas so generally used for various disorders.

Now the question is, how will the olden time preparations affect the people of this age, who have been reared, under modern medical schools and codes, with poisons and injurious drugs. This test has been carefully pursued, until they are convinced that the preparations they now call Warner's Log Cabin remedies are what our much abused systems require.

Among them is what is known as Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla, and they frankly announce that they do not consider the sarsaparilla of so much value in itself as it is in the combination of the various ingredients which together work marvelously upon the system.

We hope that the public will not be disappointed in these remedies, but will reap a benefit from the investigations, and that the proprietors will not be embarrassed in their introduction by dealers trying to substitute remedies that have been so familiar to the shelves of our druggists.

San Francisco, Nov. 25, 1888. Messrs. WELLS BROS., Salem, Oregon.

Gentlemen:—We had the pleasure recently of making shipment to you of our new "White Cross" Extracts, and send you by mail to-day a very neat show card which we would like you to place prominently in your store, and which will call the attention of your trade to the goods.

It has been our intention for some time past to place upon the market the finest line of the original extracts manufactured in this country, and after months of study and experimenting with the prominent brands you before the public we have at last succeeded in placing before you a quality which beyond doubt has no superior.

"Dickens Had One Trick."

Remark the professor in a discussion of favorite authors, "which always struck me as an oddity. I mean his habit of pinning some distinctive word or phrase on a character, which must be uttered on all occasions. Now people in real life don't iterate like parrots. At least, I know of only one person who is liable to such criticism— young Bowden, my neighbor. The picture of health isn't he? Ruddy cheeks, sparkling eyes, ringing voice. Well, his pet phrase, which I have heard him repeat to scores of people suffering from coughs and weak lungs, is, 'Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.' No wonder either, for it saved him from a consumptive's grave."

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middleward, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at H. W. Cox's Drug Store.

Salvation Army Work.

SAN FRANCISCO Nov. 28.—Mrs. Ballington Booth addressed quite a large audience yesterday. She said she proposed to explain to the church people who were present the origin, methods and purpose of the Salvation Army. It had its origin, she said, as a home missionary work, in the east end of London, nearly twenty years ago. From that small beginning it had grown until its rank and file were to be met with in every part of the world.

Death of Mrs. Sherman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Sherman slept quietly during a short period last night, but at 8 o'clock this morning it became apparent that she could live but a few hours. General Sherman was notified and he and his children who live at home, Rachel, Lizzie and Tecumseh, were at the bedside when Mrs. Sherman breathed her last.

Kilrain and Sullivan.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28.—It was rumored last night that articles for meeting had been signed by representatives of Kilrain and Sullivan. Kilrain this morning denied that the articles were signed, but admitted there was some foundation for the rumors. He said if it came off it would occur within a few days.

A Steamer Wrecked.

COPASSETT, Mass., Nov. 28.—A double concerning the loss of the steamer Allentown were dispelled this morning by a visit to the North Sea coast beach shore. The spot is covered with wreckage, consisting of pieces of iron, "Allentown." No bodies have yet come ashore.

A Sinking Crew.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 28.—The steamer City of New York, which arrived from New York, met the American whaler W. Martin, Thursday. The whaler's crew were starved and a supply of provisions given them.

Ravages of the Scour.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The death of a woman on Coney Island was not covered by $200,000. The sea broke with reckless force and scattered pieces of bath houses and summer hotels like egg shells.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Points of Personal Mention and Notes of News.

W. W. King, an old time student, entered school Monday.

The academy rhetoricals which would have been to-day were postponed one week on account of Thanksgiving.

J. O. Goltra of the class of '86 came up from Portland Saturday and spent Sunday visiting friends in the capital city.

The faculty granted the scholars a two day holiday for Thanksgiving and it was taken advantage of and thoroughly enjoyed.

W. E. Burke, after being out of school some time on account of sickness, is able to be around again this week and will resume his studies Monday.

The second term college rhetoricals will begin after holidays. All are expected to write this term on subjects chosen by Prof. Van Scoy and drawn by the scholars.

F. N. Mills an ex-student who cut his foot some time ago, after being able to walk with the aid of a cane, took cold in the wound and is again confined to his room with a very painful foot.

How Some Girls Live.

They go to bed at night and fall in a sort of stupor; why not? Is there one breath of fresh air in their sleeping-box? Do you ever, except in the heat of the summer, have so much as a crack of the window open? If there is a fire-place in a room or a stovepipe hole, don't they close it up as tightly as they can? No wonder it is so hard to wake them up in the morning. I can hear them groan, and moan, and yawn, and yowl now, at the imperative summons to get up. And what they find on their breakfast table? Sweet fried cakes, something in the shape of meat, generally fried, potatoes either stewed, hot coffee, and probab girdle-cakes, fried of course. Now, I am not going on a crusade against the frying-pan, for it has its uses, but when I see a girl sit down at the breakfast table with dull eyes, a sallow face, a listless manner, and proceed to make that early meal of strong coffee, sweetened cakes, fried pork, and potatoes, with a sequence of griddle cakes literally lathered and drowned in molasses, I feel like shutting her up for a week's starvation on bread and water.

Then there is dinner; tough meat, baked vegetables, pie, any kind of pie with a crust either tough or sandy, tasting strongly of lard and filled with things most convenient, a favorite pie in our country homes is constructed of sliced lemon, flour, and molasses, baked in a mass as unfit for the human stomach as a stewed rubber overho.

Tea-time brings cakes of various sorts, probably more pie, cheese, fruit preserved, and so ill-done it is fermented, or canned fruit which is comparatively harmless, strong tea and hot biscuit. Repasts fit for "A cassowary."

On the plains of Timbuctoo. Then to begin the day again. After breakfast they run up stairs and spread up their bed with all the exhalation of bodies during the night still imprisoned in it. At bed-time they slip in their unaired beds after hanging the dresses they have worn eight or ten hours in that tight shut closet, and repeat the experience of the night before.

"Now they have sown the seed,

What will the harvest be?" If it is winter, a heavy cold; the misused lungs forced to breathe over and over, air that has no vitality in it, air that is absolutely noxious, becomes congested more or less, and they begin to cough and sneeze. If they have secreted hidden in their constitutions, and how few people have not, the harvest of this planting will be bronchitis or consumption.

Now, when these are gone, what can money do for them? What help is marriage? A sickly wife, a helpless mother; Will clothes, however gorgeous, alleviate a backache? or assuage dyspepsia? Will education do their ailments one particle of good?—Phrenological Journal.

How often do we hear our friends say: "Oh I am feeling pretty well but have a slight pain in the back that I suppose will soon pass away." But does it pass away? No, not often unless assisted by some good remedy. Pain in the back is frequently followed weakness, flushing of the body, mucous and milky discharges, eruptions of the face and neck, dizziness, loss of appetite, general debility and Bright's disease of the kidneys, if you have any of these symptoms do not delay but save time, money and health by using Oregon Kidney Tea. It is a safe and speedy remedy. Sold by D. W. Matthews & Co.
